

The Three Hedgehogs and the Big Bad Unicorn.

Once upon a time there were three hedgehogs and they were brothers and sisters. They decided to build a secret room. The first hedgehog built his room from leaves. The second hedgehog chose flowers for his room. The third hedgehog used glittery stones.

Along came the big bad unicorn who wanted to catch the hedgehogs. The unicorn said, "I'll huff and I'll puff and blow your secret room away." The first leaf room blew away.

The unicorn went to the second hedgehog's room and said, "I'll huff and I'll puff and blow your secret room away." The unicorn blew the flower room away.

The big bad unicorn went to the third hedgehog's secret room and all three hedgehogs were there together. "I'll huff and I'll puff and blow your glittery stone room away." The hedgehogs said, "Not by the spikes on my backy, backy, back." The unicorn did not blow the third hedgehog's room away. The three hedgehogs felt happy. The unicorn was sad and angry so he flew away to bother some other hedgehogs.
